

CRAZY FOR COMPOSTING

Saturday, March 15, 2025

Inspiring Youth to Learn and Lead Through Composting

Join us at the New York Botanical Garden for a mini-conference celebrating our city's next generation of compost leaders. Connect with environmental organizations offering educational, technical, and grant resources. Together, we will discuss how to:

- Build inter-generational compost communities
- Support youth leadership in composting
- Promote environmental justice through community composting and soil stewardship
